Marine Flare Shoot & Disposal Event

On Saturday, October 10th from 8:30am to 11:30am, the United States Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary, in cooperation with OC Dana Point Harbor and the Ocean Institute, will present an opportunity to lawfully shoot your own marine flares and properly dispose of expired flares. This will be done on the south side of the Ocean Institute.

Expired flares can also be easily disposed of by turning them over to US Coast Guard Auxiliary Vessel Examiners. All boaters should understand that expired flares are for back-up purposes only, and may remain on your vessel only if they are in good condition, separated from unexpired flares, and clearly marked as expired. Unexpired flares remain the primary distress signal and are required by State and Federal regulations.

More information is available by calling
US Coast Guard Auxiliarist Norma Lococo at (949) 246-3662.
